Chief Architect Scottish Rite Cathedral

HERBERT MILLER GREENE, 32^o
Architect of the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Mr. Greene was in charge of the cathedral construction from the time when he drew the plans until the last touch of paint was put on. Its every detail was under his direct supervision, and the magnificent edifice as it now stands in all its classic beauty and architectural grandeur, is a monument to his genius, his unflagging and continuous watchfulness, his skill and mastery of the work. Associated with Mr. Greene were his partner, J. P. Hubbell 32^o, and G. F. Brage 32^o, their superintendent.
